Faculty Development News

Scholarship

Pat Brown's article "A Methodical Division of Labor in Legal Studies" will be published in the March issue of the journal Method.

Tayyab Mahmud's article "PIIGS, iTraxx SoyX, Neoliberalism, and Unshackled Finance Capital" has been published in the inaugural issue of Global Business Law Review, the on-line journal of Cleveland-Marshall College of Law.

Other Notable News

Richard Delgado was interviewed for a story that appeared on Chocolate City: The World's Best African American Blog. Based on Delgado's book with Manuel Gonzales, The Politics of Fear: How Republicans Use Money, Race, and the Media to Win (Paradigm Publishers 2007), the story included reader commentary and an interview with the author. Richard was also interviewed by a staff writer from a Lansing, MI, newspaper about a recent book by Michigan State University law professor Kevin Saunders, entitled Degradation: What the History of Obscenity Tells Us About Hate Speech (NYU Press 2011).

Tayyab Mahmud has been awarded a Princeton University Law & Public Affairs (LAPA) Fellowship for 2011-12. During his stay at Princeton as a LAPA Fellow and Visiting Professor, he will work on a book-project and teach a seminar entitled “Comparative Constitutional Law: Emergencies, Extra-Constitutionality, and Regimes of Exception.” Additionally, Tayyab participated in a roundtable on Voice of America’s International Service to discuss the nature and implications of the current crisis in Egypt.

Tayyab was also elected to the Advisory Committee of the Board of Governors of SALT and appointed Chair of the Mentorship Committee of Law and South Asia Section of AALS.

Stephanie Nichols and Douglas Nash traveled to Dillingham, Alaska to meet with representatives of the Bristol Bay Native Association and Alaska Legal Services to discuss development of a project that would create opportunities for our students and provide estate planning services to tribal members served by the BBNA.
